PHILOMATHEANS INTER-TAIN.

Friday evening a large audience greeted the Philomathean Literary Society of George R. Smith College at its initial public program that was given for the benefit of the Students Lecture Bureau. The musical numbers were well received and several of the solos called forth hearty applause. After the program, light refreshments were served. Many of the young men displayed their love for the fair ones by sending lovely bouquets.

Worthy Men

Miami, Mo., Jan. 16—Dear Editor:— In response to your request, I herewith send some brief sketches of a few of our brethren who are helping to attain success for Miami Negroes. Our Pythian Lodge met on the 15, with F. H. Brown, chancellor commander, in the chair. Routine business was attended by its usual dispatch and harmony.

Our chancellor commander, brother Brown, is a native born Miamian and is accounted as one of our most successful farmers and teamsters. He is a prominent member of the Second Baptist Church. He is loved by everyone.

L L Dandridge who received the Past chancellor's degree at Kansas City last July, is keeper of records and seal. He is a practical farmer. He enjoys the confidence of this community and is an honored member of the 2nd Baptist Church.

C. P. Beason, one of our eldest Past chancellors, is now stationed at the inner door, where he makes them all come by merit. He is another Miamian by birth. Brothers Beason and Dandridge are identified with the masonic fraternity. They deserve special credit for being the leading spirits in the organization of the Pythians.

Dear Editor you will hear from us again soon.

X Y Z reporter.

SENATOR FORAKER.

Unfortunately, though perhaps naturally, Senator Foraker in his course in the matter of the Brownsville shooting has exposed himself to charges of acting from unworthy motives. Some, in careless ignorance of his actual position in the case and some with malicious purpose to discredit him, have asserted that the Ohio senator is moved chiefly by personal antagonism to the President and by political antagonism to Secretary Taft. It is deplorable that any public question should be degraded by the introduction of any such charges.

Mr. Foraker's position has been widely misunderstood. Nowhere in his comment on the affair is there any sign of personal malignity or political enmity. He has taken up an issue of public concern and has submitted his arguments with ability and with dignity. He has a large measure of public support besides the approval and endorsement of an unknown but considerable number of his colleagues. He does not say that the soldiers are innocent of the offences which have been laid at their door. When charged by senator Lodge with having alleged their innocence, he was instantly on his feet with a denial. He declares that a penalty has been imposed upon a battalion of American soldiers without a trial, to which they are entitled by both civil and military law. The charges against these men are serious murder, misprison of felony and perjury. The senator merely holds that the testimony does not properly establish either guilt or guilt by complicity, and the resolution which now lies before the committee goes no further than to authorize the Committee on Military Affairs "to take such further testimony as may be necessary to establish the fact."

Is such a proposal there can surely be no reasonable objection. The issue is one of simple justice to American soldiers who are also American citizens.

Men charged with the crimes which these soldiers are said to have committed are clearly entitled to a trial before some competent tribunal. They have been tried neither by court martial nor before a the criminal courts of Texas. A local Grand Jury found no ground on which to indict them. The issue is distinctly legal and in no way either personal or political, and those features should be entirely eliminated.

What senator Foraker may say or do in the coming days will doubtless depend upon the development of the case. Thus far he has introduced neither politics nor personalities. He has merely exercised his right and fulfilled his duty as a member of the upper house of national house of representatives by insisting on having a square deal for men who in his opinion and in the opinion of hundreds of thousands of his fellow citizens have not had a square deal.

He has called for the facts, and for all of the facts. —N. Y. Sun.

Yes, and he will get everything he seeks, "Bill" McDonald included. Long may our defenders of the Constitution live to zealously guard the rights of humblest citizens! —Editorial comment.
